

SWISS

Dangerous Goods

Safe
Compliant
Competent

We care for your cargo.

SWISS Dangerous Goods

Care and expertise

Swiss WorldCargo has the experience and the expertise to transport goods that are listed as “dangerous” – articles or products that may pose a risk to health, safety or the environment, and which are shown on the list of dangerous goods in IATA regulations or are classified as such according to those regulations. When it comes to transporting dangerous goods, our shippers need to be fully aware of what this entails, because ultimately they are responsible for:

- Understanding the restrictions pertaining to shipped goods
- Selecting the relevant compliant packaging
- Labelling and marking dangerous goods as per IATA regulations
- Correctly completing the relevant documentation.

This is where we can help. Every year, Swiss WorldCargo transports around 16,000 tonnes of dangerous goods. And thanks to our long-standing expertise and our trained and knowledgeable staff, we can give you peace of mind by ensuring that all such shipments are in full compliance with the ICAO and IATA rules and regulations. You can rely on our knowledge and expert advice for the booking, handling and transportation of dangerous goods, because we care for your cargo.

Your Benefits

- Expertise in transporting dangerous goods
- All the personnel worldwide involved in dangerous goods handling are certified by IATA
- Compliance with the highest and latest safety and environmental standards

Our Hub

- Dedicated storage area, segregated from other cargo shipments
- Limited exposure to outside conditions thanks to extremely short distances between aircraft position and warehouse at our Zurich hub
- Fastest connections to 130 destinations worldwide

Our Service

- No weight limit (IATA rules and regulations apply)
- Dedicated process for accepting and handling dangerous goods, with specific acceptance times
- Tracking system for further peace of mind